EXPERIENCE

As a newcomer to the field, I am actively building my foundation in web development through a variety of hands-on projects. Despite my limited formal work experience, I have undertaken projects such as a Netflix clone, Facebook login page replica, and Amazon & Myntra clones, utilizing JavaScript to add interactive elements. Additionally, I've developed practical applications like a calculator, a paper-rock-scissors game, and a to-do list. These projects not only demonstrate my initial proficiency in HTML, CSS, and JavaScript but also reflect my dedication to continuous learning and exploration in the world of web development. I have consolidated my work into a personal portfolio, showcasing these projects and providing a glimpse into my evolving skills. Eager to embark on a professional journey to further enhance my skills and contribute effectively to real-world projects.
